

WORLD PHYSIOTHERAPY DAY CELEBRATIONS

Centre for Physiotherapy and Rehabilitation Sciences, JMI

2-8 September 2019

5 September 2019

Interactive Session

The 8th of September every year signifies World Physiotherapy Day which was established by WCPT in 1996 to mark the foundation of WCPT in 1951. Every year it is celebrated as a day to raise awareness about the contribution of physiotherapy and its crucial role in maintaining health and wellness. A campaign message is added along with the theme every year. The campaign for World Physical Therapy Day 2019 is focussed around chronic pain and role of physiotherapy and physical activity in managing chronic pain. To commemorate this day we at Centre for Physiotherapy and Rehabilitation Sciences, JMI, are organizing a plethora of activities to mark a “Physiotherapy week”. During the week physiotherapists will volunteer their time to promote healthy living and management of chronic pain.

An interactive session on “Legal and Ethical issues of clinical practice” is being organised to increase awareness about various issues concerning physiotherapist. It will be attended by the students and various other physiotherapist from across NCR.
