

CONFLICT RESOLUTION AND PEACEBUILDING

UN Engagement in Cambodia

Kadloor Savitri

"This theoretically and conceptually well grounded study on conflicts, in general, offers a fairly insightful perspective on the UN engagement in Cambodia. By locating Cambodia in the context of contemporary intra and inter-state conflicts, the author has been able to sensitise readers to the subtle nuances of conflicts in Cambodia and their possible resolution through the mechanism of the UN."

Rajen Harshe, Visiting Professor,
Department of International Relations,
South Asian University, New Delhi

"This book by Kadloor Savitri examines the role of the United Nations in the areas of conflict resolution, peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Cambodia. It is a scholarly work, evidencing extensive research of high quality. Lucid presentation and comprehensive analysis constitute the prime merits of this book. It will be of invaluable help to those who work in the fields of diplomacy, international organization, law and politics".

Yogesh K Tyagi, Professor & Dean,
Faculty of Legal Studies, South Asian University, New Delhi

"It is a truism that Cambodia has been a prime example of a daunting, complex, multifunctional peacekeeping operation mounted by the United Nations. By rigorously marshaling a vast body of primary and secondary sources, Savitri has done a commendable work on conflict resolution and peace building.... This book deserves to be read by students young and old".

D. Gopal, Professor & Director,
School of Social Sciences, IGNOU, New Delhi

"The greatest contribution of Savitri's book has been to bring back into sharper focus the centrality of the United Nations' role in preventing and containing regional conflicts as much as in peace building and post conflict reconstruction, even today".
