Suggestions for improvement in curriculum design and development:
 There is too much emphasis on teacher-orientation which does not allow a subject module to attain higher standards. In fact, a teacher teaching a particular course is given the entire responsibility of drafting that course without accounting for inputs and suggestions from others. The exercise should be broad-based with a focus on improving the standards.

Suggestions for improvement in curriculum design and development:	The Industry and Alumni participation is missing. A mechanism, that periodically reviews and updates the curriculum, needs to be implemented. This was also viewed and commented upon by the NBA expert committee.
