

Ecocracy'2014

The Department of Economics is organizing the Annual Fest“ECOCRACY2014”.We have been organizing this fest for the past five years and this fest had been quite popular in the university throughout the years we have had huge participation from Jamia Millia Islamia as well other colleges from Delhi University, Indraprastha University etc. The Department has been aiming to encourage greater participation at all levels. It aspires to move beyond academics to provide the students means of intellectual stimulation for development in all possible fields. This it does through organizing its annual fest- ‘Ecocracy’ which is a kaleidoscope of various events. The fest provides a platform for some of the most brilliant minds to come together and interact purposefully and fruitfully. For all years .it has been a successful event and there had been no issues regarding discipline.

The Department of Economics plans to organize the fest on 11th and 12th of March, 2014 at M.A. Ansari Auditorium, Jamia Millia Islamia.
