Best of Luck to You in Your Exams and Future Endeavours

Dear Student,

Education cultivates and ignites minds. It inculcates sensitivity, and gives physical, mental and emotional strengths through which we not only resist temptation and greed, and fight ills and diseases but also create a healthy climate and promote feelings of love and attachment. An integral part of educational system, examination is of vital importance. It is on the basis of evaluating your comprehension, application of knowledge, critical thinking and expression that you are awarded with certificates, titles and many more rewards in life.

Examination, obviously, aims at authenticating you, your caliber, rational and creative power. In sum, it is to prepare you to be determined with discipline of mind and body for coming off with flying colours in every walk of life. Ready and alert, you are sure to grow into dominating young people with the art of braving hardships of life and turning challenges into opportunities.

Nothing is beyond the stretch of imagination, if you endeavor with sincerity. Self-reliance is the mandate of nature. With your rich socialization and wide social circles on your campus you have already developed wholesome and positive values to live together while contributing your share towards the enrichment of the society and the nation as ideal citizens of India. May you thrill the world with your performance and be on top!

Wishing you a resounding success in all you future endeavors,

Najma Akhtar
