Paper Title- Diversity and Social Inequalities

Paper Code: 24-SOY-D-258

Maximum Marks: 100
Credit-4

Course Objective and Outcomes:

Our societies are changing and becoming more diverse. Patterns of unequal distribution and access to resources are ever growing leading to social inequalities and exclusion. In India, we may trace diversities in ethnic origins, religious, castes, tribes, languages, social customs, cultural and subcultural beliefs, regional variation etc. Therefore, this course intends to examine diversity and inequalities with an emphasis on religion, ethnicity and language cutting across age, gender and disability. It will also study the state and non-state interventions to address social inequalities.

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to adapt to the diverse surrounding more positively and contributes to positive change in society. The course will also help students to appreciate and celebrate diversity for a better inclusive society.

I: Understanding Diversity and Inequality

- Meaning and Concepts
- Approaches: Structural - Functional
