Sarojini Naidu Centre for Women's Studies Observes Anti-Ragging Day

New Delhi, August 13, 2026

The Sarojini Naidu Centre for Women's Studies, Jamia Millia Islamia, observed Anti-Ragging Day with an awareness and sensitization programme aimed at promoting a safe, respectful, and inclusive academic environment for all students.

On the occasion, the Director of the Sarojini Naidu Centre for Women's Studies, Prof. Vijyalakshmi Brara, briefed the students about the hazards and adverse consequences of ragging. She emphasized that ragging in any form is unacceptable and urged students to uphold dignity, mutual respect, and a sense of responsibility towards one another. The students were also encouraged to take a pledge against ragging and to contribute towards creating a safe and supportive campus environment.

The Student Advisor, Dr. Ambreen Jamali, conducted an interactive session with the students and highlighted the importance of positive relationships among students across different years. She encouraged students to develop a strong mentor-mentee relationship between first-year and final-year students, so that senior students can guide and support their juniors in their academic and personal adjustment to university life.

The faculty and staff of the Centre also actively participated in the programme and sensitized students of Gender Studies about the harmful effects of ragging and the importance of maintaining a culture of respect, empathy, inclusion, and cooperation. Students were encouraged to speak up against any form of ragging and to support their peers whenever necessary.

The observance reaffirmed the Centre's commitment to ensuring a ragging-free, safe, inclusive, and gender-sensitive educational environment, where every student can learn and grow with dignity and confidence.
